♥ Top Ten Reasons to Love Your Library ♥

10. Some of the greatest minds in history live here. Austen, da Vinci, Dickens, Edison, Franklin, Newton and Shakespeare all have a place on our library shelves.
9. Quiet is cool! You can find your focus in a couple of silent spots and peaceful places without fear of noisy distractions. Let us know if you need the privacy of the meeting room.
8. Knowledge is power. Reading fills your brain with stuff you need to be your best self and live your life to the fullest.
7. Communities thrive in libraries. From Story Time and Lap Sit to Senior Exercise, "How to Classes" and author visits, libraries are host to an infinite number of events that bring people together.
6. Checking out library material is free!
5. Librarians know everything! Well, not everything but we're pretty good at finding answers.
4. Research databases. Libraries have access to databases that provide valuable information.
3. Did I mention that checking out books is free? You already knew that!
2. The World Wide Web. For individuals without internet, libraries are their number one point of online access. Libraries help folks get connected and stay connected!
1. Because...reading. Reading whisks us away to new lands, teaches us about the world around us and, drives us to ask hard questions and imagine new things!

		The Lois Wagner Memorial Library marks its beginning in 1912 when the Ladies Civic Society began collecting books for a community library. The Richmond Public Library was renamed in 1998, in memory of Lois Wagner, its beloved Library Director for fifty years. Lois absolutely loved Richmond and its library...and so do we!
